Norfolk Botanical Garden (NBG) is currently offering a two-week free admission for the first time in the Garden's history to area families, as the Garden welcomes 2015, "A year of renewal." It's a year of NEW beginnings, a NEW President/CEO & board leadership, and a NEW vision & strategic plan for the Garden's future. Free admission began Saturday, January 3 and will continue through Monday, January 19, 2015, in celebration of Dr. Martin Luther King's birthday. Visit the NBG Gift Shop and take advantage of the Garden's 50% off sale! Most current items are 1/2 off as the Garden's Gift Shop prepares for a new look and Grand Opening in spring 2015 with new handmade & local organic products, unique garden decor and much more!

Explore the Garden's 155 acres, an oasis nestled between diverse neighborhoods surrounded by stunning water views - the most beautiful location in Coastal Virginia. More than 75 years ago, a Works Progress Administration (WPA) group of more than 200 African American women and 20 men cleared dense vegetation and planted the first azaleas at NBG. They left a lasting legacy, a gift for all to enjoy.

In celebration of the WPA gardeners and Dr. Martin Luther King's legacy, Norfolk Botanical Garden is offering the free gift of admission for everyone to discover the Garden's beauty now through Monday, January 19, 2015. Complimentary guided tram tours are offered each hour from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily.

The Winter Orchid Display at the NBG Tropical Display House is a must see with blooming orchids daily. There is something for everyone all year long.

Renew your spirit in the New Year!
