Norfolk Botanical Garden Announces The Summer Exhibit
Presented by Capital Group Companies

The Enchanted Storybook Forest, Norfolk Botanical Garden's 2010 Summer Exhibit, brings children, families, reading and nature together for an imaginative summer of fun. It all begins on Sunday, June 20 at noon with the Grand Opening Celebration on Father's Day and continues through September 6.

The exhibit is set in the cool shadows of the trees in the Enchanted Forest. It's a magical journey that winds along a looped path, where this three-part exhibit unfolds into new adventures around every bend.

Storybook Playhouses

A collection of custom-built, interactive storybook playhouses based on classic children's stories, nursery rhymes and poems.

Gnome Homes

Gnomes from far-off lands arrive to enjoy the summer fun, too!
Children build them tiny woodland homes using fallen sticks, leaves and other natural materials.

Tree Trek Trail

Exercise a sense of adventure on this blazing trail of tree trunks and stumps of various sizes.

The Enchanted Storybook Forest engages children of all ages through literature, interaction with nature and the imagination. Join the fun!
